We recommend that you have your package insured by the carrier when you ship it. We also recommend that you use a shipping carrier that provides package tracking such as UPS or FedEx. This will ensure that your package will arrive at its destination.

While the product is at Olympus, you can check on the status by visiting our website at www.olympus.com/repairstatus. Please note that it will take 2-3 days after we receive your package until information is available on the website.

If the product is out of warranty, you will receive a Service Charge Estimate by mail outlining the cost of the repair. If you agree to the repair, you would authorize the agreement and return the paperwork with a form of payment. Additionally, you can provide instant authorization and payment for a repair by using a credit card and visiting our website at www.olympus.com/repairstatus. If you decide to not have the product repaired, Olympus will return the product to you at no charge.

The typical repair is completed within 12 business days of the receipt of a warranty product or approval of the repair estimate.
